PLAINTIFF'S ORIGINAL PETITION AND APPLICATON FOR INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

Plaintiff Leaf Trading Cards, LLC ("Leaf"), complaining of Defendant Kevin Isaacson ("Isaacson"), individually and doing business as The Industry Summit, Defendant Isaacson Consulting Group, LLC ("ICG"), individually and doing business as The Industry Summit, and John Does 1-10, avers as follows:

DISCOVERY LEVEL

Leaf alleges that discovery in this cause should be conducted under Tex. R. Civ. P. 190.2 as a "Level 2" case.

INJUNCTIVE RELIEF REQUESTED

This lawsuit seeks, in part, an injunction to require Defendants Isaacson and ICG (collectively the "Summit Defendants") to abide by their contract with Leaf and permit Leaf to be an exhibitor, attendee, and participant at "The Industry Summit," a March 16-19, 2014 industry trade show for the trading card and collectibles business. Accordingly, Leaf requests a temporary injunction hearing at the earliest convenient date and no later than February 16, 2014. Leaf reserves its right to seek a temporary restraining order if necessary for a timely ruling on the issues in this matter.

INTRODUCTION

The Summit Defendants have breached their contract with Leaf and wrongfully excluded Leaf, a leading trading card manufacturer, from "The Industry Summit" (the "Summit"), the annual trade show for trading card and collectibles manufacturers, suppliers, and retailers. The 2014 Summit is scheduled for March 16-19, 2014 in Las Vegas, Nevada. Leaf and the Summit Defendants entered into a registration contract for Leaf to be an exhibitor, attendee, and participant at the 2014 Summit. Leaf paid, and the Summit Defendants accepted, almost $10,000 for the Leaf's registration fees for the Summit. The Summit Defendants breached the registration contract with Leaf and have banned Leaf from attending, participating, or exhibiting at the Summit. Upon information and belief, one or more of John Does 1-10 influenced, threatened, induced, or directed the Summit Defendants to breach Leaf's registration contract for the Summit and exclude Leaf from the Summit.

PARTIES

1. Plaintiff Leaf is a Texas limited liability company with its principal place of business in Dallas County, Texas.

2. Defendant Isaacson is an individual resident of the State of Wisconsin residing at W9254 Amber Lane, Clintonville, Wisconsin 54929-9154. Upon information and belief, Isaacson does business as "The Industry Summit." Isaacson, at all times material to this action, has engaged in business in Texas, as more particularly described below. Isaacson does not maintain a place of regular business in Texas and has no designated agent on whom service of citation may be made in this action. The causes of action asserted herein arose from or are connected with purposeful acts of Isaacson in the State of Texas, including (i) use of an interactive website by which persons in Texas can obtain information from Isaacson and enter into a contract with Isaacson, (ii) soliciting online registration contracts for the Summit, (iii) inviting persons in Texas to enter into registration contracts with Isaacson to attend the Summit, and (iv) entering into registration contracts with Texas residents, including Leaf, to attend, participate at, and exhibit at the Summit. Isaacson's breach of its contract with Leaf is the basis of Leaf's causes of action herein. Accordingly, Isaacson may be cited by serving the Secretary of State of Texas, 1019 Brazos Street, Austin, Texas 78701, as Defendant Isaacson's designated agent for service, provided that the citation and petition are forwarded to Kevin Isaacson, W9254 Amber Lane, Clintonville, Wisconsin 54929, by certified mail, return receipt requested.

3. Defendant ICG is a limited liability company formed under the laws of the State of Wisconsin with its principal office located at W9254 Amber Lane, Clintonville, Wisconsin 54929-9154. Upon information and belief, ICG does business as "The Industry Summit." ICG is a nonresident of Texas who does not maintain a place of residence or regular business in Texas and has no designated agent in Texas on whom service of citation may be made in this action. ICG, at all times material to this action, has engaged in business in Texas, as more particularly described below. ICG does not maintain a place of regular business in Texas and has no designated agent on whom service of citation may be made in this action. The causes of action asserted herein arose from or are connected with purposeful acts of ICG in the State of Texas, including

(i) ICG's use of interactive website by which persons in Texas can obtain information from ICG and enter into a contract with Isaacson, (ii) soliciting online registration contracts for the Summit, (iii) inviting persons in Texas to enter into registration contracts with ICG to attend the Summit, and (iv) entering into registration contracts with Texas residents, including Leaf, to attend, participate at, and exhibit at the Summit. ICG's breach of its contract with Leaf is the basis of Leaf's causes of action herein. Accordingly, ICG may be cited by serving the Secretary of State of Texas, 1019 Brazos Street, Austin, Texas 78701, as Defendant ICG's designated agent for service, provided that the citation and petition are forwarded to ICG's registered agent, Kevin Isaacson, W9254 Amber Lane, Clintonville, Wisconsin 54929, by certified mail, return receipt requested.

4. Defendants Isaacson and ICG are collectively referred to as the "Summit Defendants."

5. The names and residences of Defendants John Does 1-10 are currently unknown.

VENUE

6. Venue of this cause is proper in Dallas County, Texas pursuant to Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code §§ 15.001-15.002.

BACKGROUND FACTS

Leaf's Business and Products

7. Leaf began operations in 2010 and is a leading manufacturer of sports and entertainment trading cards and collectibles. Further information about Leaf and its products is available at www.leaftradingcards.com.

8. Leaf markets and sells its products to distributors and retailers of trading cards and collectibles who then resell Leaf's products to individual buyers and collectors. Leaf does not directly sell its products as a retailer and does not have an online store on its website.

The Industry Summit

9. The Summit began in 2010 as an annual conference for industry professionals in the trading card and collectibles business. Complete information about the Summit can be found at the Summit's website, www.theindustrysummit.com. A copy of the home page for the Summit website is attached hereto as Exhibit "1" and incorporated herein by reference.

10. Leaf paid registration fees to the Summit Defendants for Leaf to attend and have exhibitor space at the first four Summits in 2010-2013. The Summit website lists Leaf among the industry professionals who attended the 2013 Summit. A copy of that portion of the Summit website is attached hereto as Exhibit "2" and incorporated herein by reference.

11. In addition, Leaf's President and CEO, Brian Gray ("Gray"), has been a panelist and presenter at prior Summits. Gray was a featured presenter at the 2013 Summit and Isaacson introduced Gray to that audience as "without question, one of the most innovative, creative, and ... fun people in this business."

12. The Summit website promotes registration for the 2014 Summit by touting the size, relevance, importance, and value of the event:

The 5th annual Summit, set March 16-19 at The Orleans Hotel & Casino, will feature engagement from more than 500 leading retailers, distributors, manufacturers, licensors, and service providers – unquestionably the largest industry gathering of its kind.

"The Summit brings our industry's best and brightest together for four days of discussion, debate and business development," Summit host Kevin Isaacson said. "It has truly become a 'can't miss' event for anyone invested in the trading card and sports collectible business."

A copy of that portion of the Summit website is attached hereto as Exhibit "3" and incorporated herein by reference.

13. The Summit website also highlights featured events at the 2014 Summit, including:

- A. Sneak peeks at new products from manufacturers
- B. Opportunities to engage with league officials and player association contacts from major professional sports
- C. Sales-focused interaction with more than 400 key buyers, distributors, and retailers from across the United States and Canada
- D. A Summit "Tech Academy" relating to online marketing and commerce

See Exhibit "3."

14. The Summit website highlights that a number of Leaf's major competitors (e.g., Topps, Panini, Upper Deck) will be corporate partners and exhibitors at the 2014 Summit. A copy of that portion of the Summit website is attached hereto as Exhibit "4" and incorporated herein by reference.

Leaf's Registration Contract with ICG for the 2014 Summit

15. The Summit website offers interactive online registration for the 2014 Summit. Several pages on the Summit website include a bright green "Register Now!" button, which provides a link to the 2014 Summit's online registration form. A copy of the online registration form is attached hereto as Exhibit "5" and incorporated herein by reference.

16. On December 19, 2013, Leaf accepted the offer on the Summit website to register for, exhibit at, and attend the 2014 Summit. Leaf registered and purchased three (3) "Corporate Booth Packages" for the 2014 Summit. The registration and payment were processed via a link on the Summit's website. That same morning, Leaf received an e-mail stating in part:

"Thank you for registering."

"Brian, you are confirmed for: 2014 Industry Summit"

"Registration Number: 63374668"

"We look forward to seeing you at the event."

A copy of the Summit Defendants' acceptance e-mail and confirmation is attached hereto as Exhibit "6" and incorporated herein by reference.

17. Leaf paid $9,832.57 for its registration of three Corporate Booth Packages for the 2014 Summit (registration fee of $9,587.85 and a service fee of $244.72). A copy of the receipt for Leaf's payment is attached hereto as Exhibit "7" and incorporated herein by reference.

18. Later on December 19, 2013, Isaacson informed Leaf's CEO and President, Brian Gray, via e-mail that Leaf's registration contract for the 2014 Summit was "declined" and Leaf's credit card would not be charged. Isaacson thanked Gray for Leaf's commitment to the 2010-2013 Industry Summits and asked Gray and Leaf "to take a year's sabbatical from the Summit." A copy of the December 19 e-mail is attached hereto as Exhibit "8" and incorporated herein by reference.

19. Contrary to Isaacson's e-mail language, Leaf's credit card was charged $9,832.57. See Exhibit "7."

Harm Suffered by Leaf

20. The Summit Defendants' breach of Leaf's registration contract for the 2014 Summit will cause Leaf significant monetary damage and irreparable harm. The 2014 Summit is the only industry conference in the trading card industry until the 2015 Summit. Leaf's absence will be patently obvious to its competitors, customers, and other industry professionals. The damage to Leaf's reputation and standing in the trading card and collectibles industries will be significant and immeasurable.

Leaf's Demand Letter to ICG

21. On January 3, 2014, Leaf's attorney sent to the Summit Defendants' attorney a demand letter (the "Leaf Letter") outlining the facts of the registration contract, the Summit Defendants' breach of the registration contract, and the irreparable damage to Leaf. A copy of the Leaf Letter is attached hereto as Exhibit "9" and incorporated herein by reference.

22. The Leaf Letter included a demand that the Summit Defendants abide by the parties' registration contract and permit Leaf to be an exhibitor and full participant at the 2014 Summit with all rights of an exhibitor and registrant, including the attendance and participation at the 2014 Summit by all of Leaf's paid registrants for the Summit.

23. Neither the Summit Defendants' attorney nor the Summit Defendants responded to the Leaf Letter by the January 7, 2014 deadline.

24. Neither the Summit Defendants' attorney nor the Summit Defendants have responded to the Leaf Letter as of the filing of this Petition.

COUNT ONE

BREACH OF CONTRACT – SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

25. Leaf incorporates by reference the allegations of Paragraphs 1 through 24.

26. Money damages for the Summit Defendants' breach of the registration contract for the 2014 Summit would be an inadequate remedy because of the unique nature of the contract, i.e., the contractual right to exhibit at, attend, and participate at the Summit Defendants' 4-day event from March 16-19, 2014. The only adequate remedy for the Summit Defendants' breach of contract would be to order the Summit Defendants to specifically perform the parties' contract by allowing Leaf to exercise all of its rights under the registration contract to exhibit at, attend, and participate at the 2014 Summit.

27. Leaf has performed all terms and conditions of the parties' registration contract (i.e., full payment of the registration fees). There are no remaining obligations for Leaf to perform under the registration contract.

28. The Summit Defendants should be ordered by this Court to specifically perform the registration contract with Leaf.

COUNT TWO

INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

29. Leaf incorporates by reference the allegations of Paragraphs 1 through 28.

30. Leaf requests an Order enjoining the Summit Defendants from refusing to honor the parties' registration contract. Specifically, Leaf requests an order requiring the Summit Defendants to abide by the terms of the registration contract, including allowing Leaf (and its registered representatives) to exhibit at, attend, and participate at the Summit pursuant to the registration contract with the same rights and responsibilities of other registrants for the 2014 Summit.

COUNT THREE

TORTIOUS INTERFERENCE AND CONSPIRACY

31. Leaf incorporates by reference the allegations of Paragraphs 1 through 30.

32. Upon information and belief, one or more parties identified as John Does 1-10 willfully and intentionally induced ICG to breach and violate the provisions of Leaf's registration contract for the 2014 Summit.

33. The wrongful interference and inducement by one or more parties identified as John Does 1-10 resulted in Defendants harming Leaf by excluding Leaf from the 2014 Summit despite the registration contract between Leaf and ICG.

34. The Summit Defendants and one or more parties identified as John Does 1-10 conspired by concerted action to cause the breach of Leaf's registration contract for the 2014 Summit and that resulted in harm to Leaf.

35. The Summit Defendants and one or more parties identified as John Does 1-10 acted with malicious intent in their conspiracy by concerted action to cause the breach of the registration contract between Leaf and ICG that resulted in the harm to Leaf. Such actions were taken out of spite and ill will toward Leaf and for the sole purpose of causing economic injury to Leaf, entitling Leaf to actual and exemplary damages.

COUNT FOUR

ATTORNEY'S FEES

36. Leaf incorporates by reference the allegations of Paragraphs 1 through 35.

37. Leaf is entitled to recover from Defendants all reasonable attorneys' fees through the trial and all appeals of this action.

CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

38. All conditions precedent to Leaf's recovery under all counts herein have occurred, or been performed or waived.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Leaf prays that Defendants answer herein, and that upon final hearing, this Court award to Leaf the relief requested herein, together with attorney's fees, costs of court, and such other and further relief, at law and in equity, to which Leaf may show itself justly entitled.

Respectfully submitted,

LAS VEGAS Industry Summit 2014

Get ready! 2014 Summit is set March 16-19!

Posted by Kevin Isaacson on Wednesday, November 6, 2013 Under: 2014 Summit
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LAS VEGAS (Nov. 8, 2013) – Excitement is building throughout the trading card and collectible business for the 2014 Industry Summit, the annual conference for industry professionals.

The 5th annual Summit, set March 16-19 at The Orleans Hotel & Casino ^{CS}, will feature engagement from more than 500 leading retailers, distributors, manufacturers, licensors and service providers – unquestionably the largest industry gathering of its kind.

"The Summit brings our industry's best and brightest together for four days of discussion, debate and business development," Summit host Kevin Isaacson said. "It has truly become a 'can't miss' event for anyone invested in the trading card and sports collectible business."

Among the Summit's featured events:

- Sneak peeks at dozens of new products from licensed trading card and collectible manufacturers.
- Ability to engage with key league and player association contacts, including MLB, MLBPA, NBA, NFL, NFLPA, NHL and NHLPA.
- Sales-focused interaction with more than 400 key buyers, including leading U.S. and Canada distributors and innovative retailers representing 40-plus states/provinces.
- Expanded for 2014: The Summit "Tech Academy", during which retailers and industry leaders will expand their sales via social media, email marketing ^{CS}, online auction and e-commerce. Last year's event featured key presentations from eBay, COMC, Amazon, Beckett Media and Constant Contact.

"You will learn so much, and hear so many great ideas, that it is impossible to implement it all right away," said Rick Rollar, a leading retailer based in Pigeon Forge, TN.

Brian,

Thanks for your patience. I am back in the office and available to visit via phone if you would like.

In advance of our visit, please allow me to share my thoughts regarding Leaf & Summit 2014:

I sincerely appreciate your company's commitment to our 2010, '11, '12 and '13 events – I believe it was a mutually beneficial relationship until early Tuesday morning, 3-19-13. As I am sure you know, I was very disappointed in your 2013 podium presentation; I do not believe it served the Summit or our industry appropriately.

As a result, I am asking you and the Leaf company to take a year's sabbatical from the Summit.

I do not expect that you will like this decision, but I hope you will understand it. In kind, I will certainly understand if you choose to "cross-program" and create a Leaf Trading Cards invitation-only event somewhere in Las Vegas during the March 16-19 time period. For what it's worth, there are no Summit events planned on Monday night at this writing.

I noticed that you entered an online reservation request earlier today; I will decline those reservation requests and your credit card won't be charged.

Please know that I have no interest in issuing any public statement or engaging in public discussion regarding this decision. I possess only the best wishes for you and your company, and the industry that we serve.

Sincerely,

Kevin Isaacson

Re: Breach of Leaf Trading Cards, LLC's Registration Contract for the 2014 Industry Summit

Dear Mr. Faust:

I represent Leaf Trading Cards, LLC ("Leaf") with respect to Mr. Kevin Isaacson's breach of Leaf's registration contract for the 2014 Industry Summit (the "Summit"). Mr. Isaacson informed Messrs. Brian Gray and Scott Jordan of Leaf that any communication about this matter be directed to you.

On December 19, 2013, Leaf accepted the offer on Mr. Isaacson's Summit website to register for, exhibit at, and attend the Summit. Leaf registered and purchased three (3) "Corporate Booth Packages" at the Summit. The registration and payment were processed via a link on the Summit's website. That same morning, Leaf received a confirmation e-mail stating in part:

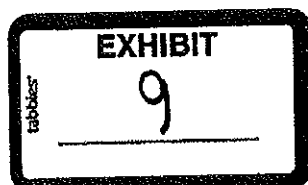

"Thank you for registering."

"Brian, you are confirmed for: 2014 Industry Summit"

"Registration Number: 63374668"

"We look forward to seeing you at the event."

Leaf paid $9,832.57 for its registration of three Corporate Booth Packages (registration fee of $9,587.85 and a service fee of $244.72). Leaf's invoice number for the $9,832.57 payment is 1308102-63374668.

Peter J. Faust, Esq.
January 3, 2014

Later on December 19, 2013, Mr. Isaacson informed Mr. Gray that Leaf's reservation contract for the Summit was "declined" and Leaf's credit card would not be charged. Mr. Isaacson thanked Mr. Gray for Leaf's commitment to the 2010-2013 Industry Summits and asked Mr. Gray and Leaf "to take a year's sabbatical from the Summit."

Contrary to Mr. Isaacson's statement, Leaf's credit card was charged $9,832.57. Leaf later received a refund of its $9,587.85 registration fee but did not receive a refund of the $244.72 service fee.

Mr. Isaacson's breach of Leaf's registration contract will cause Leaf significant monetary damage and irreparable harm. As you are aware, the Summit is the only industry conference in the trading card industry. Leaf's absence will be patently obvious to its competitors, customers, and other industry professionals. The damage to Leaf's reputation and standing in the trading card and memorabilia industries will be immeasurable.

In addition to Mr. Isaacson's breach of the registration contract, Leaf believes that one or more parties tortuously interfered with Leaf's attendance at the Summit, Leaf's registration contract, and Leaf's prospective business relationships with Summit attendees. Leaf is concerned that Mr. Isaacson's attempt to revoke Leaf's registration resulted from pressure placed on him by Leaf's competitors. Moreover, Leaf is concerned that this breach of Leaf's registration contract is part of a plan or conspiracy to drive Leaf out of the trading card market via anticompetitive practices, such as collusion, refusals to deal, exclusive dealings, and antitrust violations.

Leaf demands that Mr. Isaacson abide by the registration contract and permit Leaf to be an exhibitor and full participant at the Summit. Please respond to this letter in writing no later than 5:00 pm Central Time on Tuesday, January 7, 2014 and confirm that Leaf will be permitted to be an exhibitor at the Summit with full rights of an exhibitor and registrant, including the attendance and participation at the Summit by Messrs. Brian Gray, Scott Jordan, and Joe Clemons who were each paid registrants for the Summit. Leaf is ready, willing, and able to again pay the registration fee for the three Corporate Booth Packages that it previously purchased on December 19. There should be no "service fee" for the registration because the $244.72 fee previously paid by Leaf was never refunded.

I welcome the opportunity to discuss this matter at your convenience.
